

Capital: Kohima
Formation / statehood: 1 December 1963 (first state carved from Northeast reorganisation)
Official language(s): English
Public Service Commission: NPSC
Flagship exam: Nagaland Civil Services (NCS)

OVERVIEW

Nagaland became a state on 1 December 1963 and is home to many Naga tribes in the Patkai hill region. Kohima is the capital, and the state is known for Hornbill Festival and Second World War Kohima battle history.

FOCUS TOPICS

- Naga tribes and culture
- 1963 statehood
- Kohima war memorial history
- Hornbill Festival
- NPSC civil services exam

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1. What is the capital of Nagaland?

Answer: Kohima

2. On which date did Nagaland become a state?

Answer: 1 December 1963

3. Which festival showcases Naga tribal culture in Nagaland?

Answer: Hornbill Festival

4. Which Public Service Commission conducts Nagaland civil services exams?

Answer: Nagaland Public Service Commission (NPSC)

5. Which language is used for official purposes in Nagaland?

Answer: English

6. Which World War II battle is associated with Kohima?

Answer: Battle of Kohima (1944)

7. Which mountain range covers much of Nagaland?

Answer: Patkai / Naga hills

8. Which state shares a long border with Nagaland to the west?

Answer: Assam

9. Which town in Nagaland is a major commercial hub in the Dimapur plain?

Answer: Dimapur

10. Which agricultural crop is widely grown on Nagaland terraced hill slopes?

Answer: Rice

NOTE

This compact sheet covers stable static GK. Verify changing administrative facts, current affairs and the latest exam scheme from official state government and PSC websites.

More free practice: <https://www.mpscs.in/state-gk>